Crowding The Law

The legal issue of whether or not the disastrous mine shutdown brought about by John L. Lewis can be dealt with under the Taft-Hartley act plainly is uppermost in the mind of the United Mine Workers chief and his lawyers. Their purpose is to prove they are bigger than the law.

The issue will have to be settled by the courts while the national economy suffers the consequences of a labor monopolist making a steady practice of crowding the law at the expense of the public welfare.

On recommendation of the board of inquiry studying the mine shutdown, the attorney general must appeal for a federal injunction to stop the shutdown. The injunction can be granted at the discretion of the court, Lewis and his lawyers can appeal from the court's decision. Somewhere along the line, the issue of whether or not a "voluntary" refusal to mine coal is subject to the Taft-Hartley act will have to be decided.

Sixty days after the injunction is granted, the NLRB must hold an election on the question of whether or not employees will accept the employer's last offer. In the case of the present coal mine shutdown, there is no employer's offer to be voted on; the shutdown is over a decision on pensions under the existing contract. Again, Lewis and his lawyers will have a chance to crowd the law.

If they succeed, the public has only one recourse—an amendment to the Taft-Hartley act to cover the kind of situation they are exploiting. They make no secret of their intention to defy the Taft-Hartley act at any cost—and the cost promises to be far greater than the country can bear with safety. Their attitude gives congress no choice but to prove that the government is able to withstand all the pressure Lewis and his lawyers can bring to bear and to retaliate with enough additional pressure, if necessary, to control the labor monopoly in the coal industry.

The Bogota Conference

The importance the United States attaches to the Bogota (Columbia) conference is apparent from the size and caliber of its delegation, headed by Secretary of State Marshall.

The ninth Inter-American conference since 1889, it is designed to achieve economic solidarity comparable to the military agreement reached last year at Rio de Janeiro. But there also will be matters of a military nature, including formation of a permanent defense council. It also is probable there will be discussions of the trouble arising from Costa Rica's civil war and Britain's colonial troubles in Latin America and the Falklands.

On the economic matters, Latin America feels it is being slighted by United States preoccupation with Europe. Because of years of unfavorable trade balances, our neighbors to the south lack dollars, which explains the presence at the conference of John J. McCloy, world bank president. Industrial development and trade across national boundaries in South America have never been commensurate with the continent's varied resources and its immunity from the havoc of two world wars. To remedy these deficiencies, our neighbors hope for a South American "recovery program" to match E. R. P., although technically Latin America hasn't anything to recover from; it just never developed.

The United States has a large and delicate job at Bogota assuaging slights and imagined slights, helping iron out disagreements and making a fair distribution of Uncle Sam's magic dollar remedy—good for man, beast or ailing nation.

Tax-Burdened Railroads

With tax reduction in the air, American railroads still are burdened with wartime taxes in an era of increasing costs. Passenger revenues are hampered by a 15 percent tax on tickets, in addition to which the roads must pay three percent on their properties and four cents on every ton of coal.

Bills for rescinding these levies are before congress. They should be passed, because taxes could be one of the factors bringing railroads to financial plights comparable to those of the 1930's.

As an example of tax demands, consider the Santa Fe which in 1936 had $60,000,000 after expenses and taxes. Last year on more than twice the business, it had only $47,000,000. After payment of a modest dividend, it had left for contingencies an amount less than the sum needed for plant and facilities expansion. Its 1947 taxes were $21,000,000 more than net earnings.

If railroads aren't permitted to acquire the cash reserves necessary for postwar rehabilitation and expansion, their employees, the stockholders and the nation will suffer.

A Chance To Buy Ill-Will

In an effort to attract American tourists, Britain has made concessions for visitors. These include voucher books permitting purchases up to $100 worth of rationed clothing and enough gasoline for 1,000 miles of driving.

Before Americans take advantage of these concessions, however, they should reflect a bit. There's a question as to whether a tourist could enjoy himself taking advantage of privileges denied the people in whose land he's a guest. American esteem abroad has suffered frequently because of ill-considered conduct on the part of travelers.

Buying clothing in British stores while Britons stand by and ruefully count their ration points, traveling blithely over roads deeded to Britons for pleasure driving—such activity would do American prestige no good. The British government's purpose is plain: It wants dollars. But if visiting Americans comport themselves as a class apart, they'll be buying a batch of ill-will.

The Hamlet of the U. M. W.

Aside from the rightness or wrongness of John L. Lewis' legalistic backing and filling, there is the matter of the prose he uses. Here indeed are the utterances of a frustrated hamlet. They read like the work of a man much impressed by Shakespeare's majestic cadences and determined to surpass them.

"Without indulging in analysis," says Mr. Lewis, "it is a logical assumption that the cavilling of the bar and bench in their attempts to explicate this infamous act will consume a tedious time." Translation: Legal red tape will delay the proceedings.

To evaluate Mr. Lewis' prose in his own idiom: Here is a man who resorts to oratorical furbelows and beyond the call of duty; who delights in archaisms, wardour street bombast, dangling participles and wandering subjunctives; who revels in rhetorical inversions, apostrophes, pleonasm, meiosis and spectacular hyperbole. Translation: Windy old bird, isn't he?

These are concerned with all business, financial and professional activities, with happy reactions in the social, domestic and romantic life—its smooth and cheerful running. Build up good will. Travel may prove the open sesame for enhanced prestige and popularity.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in the way of fruitful change, with a happy fulfillment of cherished aims and aspirations, of a business as well as purely personal relationship. New creative abilities, mental as well as practical, may open the way for fresh fields of expression. Enhanced popularity and prestige, with happy and rich culmination to mental and emotional stimuli are forecast. It's time to reach far for precious fulfillments.

A child born on this day is splendidly endowed with practical and creative talents and skills, in the realm of the mental and emotional.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

BY WALTER KIERNAN

General Eisenhower has been made a Boy Scout—he already has two invitations to help old parties across the street in Philadelphia.

The Boy Scouts awarded Ike the Silver Buffalo badge in 1944... now a number of persons are trying to get him to accept the lead donkey or the brass elephant in 1948.

There's a man who can start a political fire by rubbing any two candidates together but there are no merit badges awarded for sticking your chin out.

Ike shows every intention of sticking to the Boy Scouts and letting the presidential scouts look elsewhere... which is as good a place as any to find a victim.

But we're making some progress on tax matters... the senate has voted to admit exposed X-ray film into the country duty free.

Pictures of lay liver may now be carried past customs collectors openly.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Reasons For Tonsillectomy

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

These days operation to remove the tonsils is much less common than it was even ten years ago. There was a time when removal of the tonsils was considered almost a cure-all for the ailments of childhood. Nowadays the operation is undertaken only when some definite condition in the tonsils seems to be actively endangering the child's health.

The principal justification for removing the tonsils in either adults or children is recurrent attacks of infection. If a child of five years or older has three attacks of acute tonsillitis in a year many physicians think the tonsils should be taken out.

Abscess Formed

The operation should also be done if an abscess has formed in the tissue around the tonsils because, once this has happened it is likely to occur again unless the tonsils are removed. Furthermore the occurrence of such abscesses means that there is infection deep in the tonsils.

Enlargement of the tonsils, as well as the adenoids may block the breathing passages. When such blocking occurs, in a child under five years of age removal of the adenoids alone often is sufficient to permit normal breathing through the nose. Thus today there is less tendency to remove the tonsils just because it has been decided that the adenoids should be taken out.

It is not thought to be good policy to remove the tonsils in an effort to prevent colds, because the operation does not help in many such cases.

Glands Enlarge

In the neck there are glands known as lymph glands. When the tonsils are infected, these glands enlarge. If such enlargements remain over a long period of time, removal of the tonsils is probably advisable.

Still another reason for removing tonsils is deafness due to blocking of the tube which connects the throat with the middle ear. Of course, the adenoids as well should be removed in such cases.

Cases of Asthma

Sometimes removal of the tonsils is suggested in cases of asthma or nasal allergy when there is a continuous mucous discharge from the nose. However, the operation is seldom of much benefit in these cases and has been thought to aggravate the asthma in some instances.

Removal of the tonsils may also be considered in chronic arthritis and in kidney inflammations. Of course, the physician will have to decide in such cases whether or not there is a likelihood that the tonsils are acting as a focus of infection from which germs and their poisons are passed into the blood and carried to other parts of the body. If he believes this is the case, then operation on the tonsils will probably be of benefit.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A Reader: I have large black spots which appear on my chin. These last from two to ten days. What causes them?

Answer: It is impossible to tell the cause of this condition without an examination. It is advisable that you consult a skin specialist.

Skin disorders may come from such things as infections, sensitivity to chemicals with which the skin comes in contact, nervous disorders and other causes.

Miss Summer Is Married

Using the double ring ceremony, Rev. Spencer Gentle officiated at the marriage of Miss Evelyn Summer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Summer of North Georgetown, and Raymond D. Gibbons, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gibbons of Beloit, Sunday afternoon, March 21, at the bride's home. The families witnessed the nuptials.

Attired in a smartly styled poude blue covert cloth suit, the bride wore navy blue accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mercer, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were the only attendants.

With a toast brown tailored suit, Mrs. Mercer used brown accessories and her corsage was of yellow roses.

The bride's mother was costumed in royal blue, while the groom's mother appeared in navy blue. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

After the ceremony a reception was held. The refreshment table was centered with a two-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons spent their honeymoon in Cleveland and are residing in Beloit.

The bride, graduate of Goshen High school, has been employed in the office of the Lewis Mfg. Co., Alliance.

Mr. Gibbons, a graduate of Beloit High school, is employed at the Strong Mfg. Co., Sebring.

Special guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Belle Stroup of Alliance; Mrs. Gentle and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Strydill of Ashland.

pension dispute could be settled as part of a new one year contract so the industry would not have to face another crisis 90 days hence.

There are several big obstacles, however. One is the operators' past refusal to deal with Lewis until he orders his 400,000 miners back to their jobs. Another is whether they would have to terminate the present agreement formally before working out a new one.

Some industry sources are said to feel they should negotiate an agreement on a pension plan on Lewis's terms and maintain present pay scales for one year. They hope they might also get a no-strike commitment from Lewis for that long.

There was no comment from the United Mine Workers but there were some signs that Lewis might be willing to negotiate on a new one-year contract. There were no indications that he would put his mining back to work first, however.

Aside from the possibility of a negotiated settlement, other reasons were given for Truman's delay in seeking an injunction, one was that the fuel shortage had not yet reached the proportions of a crisis warranting such action.

Italy Strike Threatened

ROME, April 1—Italy may be gripped by a general strike at the time of her April 18 election test between Communists and anti-Communists. The walkout is threatened by the Communist-led Italian general confederation of Labor (CGIL), some 6,000,000 strong.

Play Up ERP Passage

LONDON, April 1—London morning newspapers gave banner line play today to house passage of the European aid bill. Many of them still were critical of the action to make Spain eligible for Marshall plan aid.

Columbiana Opens Red Cross Drive

COLUMBIANA, April 1—With a quota of $1,800 for Columbiana, the same as last year, the annual Red Cross drive got under way today and will continue through April. No chairman has been announced.

E. L. Calvin, chairman last year, distributed material to factories the first of the week, but is not directing the drive this year. There will be no house-to-house canvass unless it may become necessary. A number of contributions have been left at the banks.

Home From Winter Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Snyder of W. Park ave. are home after a tour of three months in Arizona and California. Former Columbiana residents they visited during their absence were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Good at Tucson, Ariz., and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Snell at Morro Bay, Calif.

William Esterly, having spent the Easter vacation with his father, Russell Esterly, returned Tuesday to Athens, where he is taking an engineering course in Ohio university.

Class Meets Friday

The L. L. class will hold its postponed meeting at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, beginning with a coverdish dinner at 6:30. It will be the annual birthday party. Household hints will be the responses to roll call.

After their concert at Midway Menonite church Tuesday evening, members of the mixed chorus from Goshen college, Goshen, Ind., spent the day in Columbiana.

The concert at Midway church was sponsored by the Midway, North Lima and Leetonia Menonite congregations.

LEETONIA GROUPS WILL HEAR TALK

LEETONIA, April 1—Miss Pauline Zeigler, missionary on furlough from Liberia, will speak at St. Paul's Lutheran church at 8 p. m. Friday at the annual Thank-Offering service of the Sue Bixler and Brillhart Missionary societies.

Members of the missionary societies of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches have been invited. This service will follow the 25th anniversary dinner of the Brillhart society in the church parlors at 6 p. m. Mrs. J. A. Fehr, of Salem, president of the Women's Missionary Society of the Synod of Ohio, will be present for both services.

W. S. C. S. Entertained
Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church was entertained at the home of Mrs. L. E. Fisher Tuesday evening with Miss Anna Hephner associate hostess.

Miss Anna Mae Barnes has returned to Pittsburgh, where she is a student nurse at Presbyterian hospital, after a weekend visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barnes.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help,
Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food
In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, to independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

presented a shower of gifts. Jimmy Ginther, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ginther, has the mis-

law, creating a council of the realm providing for ultimate restoration of the monarchy.

He has concluded or is negotiating trade and economic agreements with England, France and countries of the Western Hemisphere.

Franco feels that the democracies are shortighted in their policies regarding Spain. But he still controls the vast bulk of the people and has convinced them that if Spain cannot get along with other nations, it is strong enough to stand on its own feet.

Nevertheless Spain is faced with a crucial situation.

Communists and sympathizers have been arrested and executed with dispatch. But Franco has been less successful in combating the evil of food shortages and has been compelled to reduce already scanty rations.

In creating his council of the realm, Franco reserved the right to choose his own successor.

This has aroused the ire of Don Juan of Bourbon, pretender to the Spanish throne vacant since the late king Alfonso XIII "suspended" his royal prerogatives but refused to abdicate.

There have been increasing monarchist demonstrations together with a growing cordiality between Royalists and the exiled Spanish Republican government in Paris, whose own status has been affected by each successive friendly approach to Franco by the democracies.

Of top importance if Spain eventually is included in Marshall plan benefits in addition to the commercial credits she has been granted by the United States is the fact that the long-closed frontier between France and Spain has been reopened.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Slow Time Plea

Editor, The News:
Even though Daylight Saving time is of some benefit to a few people, that fact alone, does not justify its being added on to everyone indiscriminately. For farm families it is for more than an inconvenience.

When we help by the day at a farm, and then at the end of the day we pay for the hour and furnish dinner at noon. But Daylight Saving time means that the fields are much too wet to do anything in, and the barn chores are already done. Help is scarce and not likely to come at 10 a. m. and work till 7 p. m. Daylight Saving Time in the afternoon means the farmer must work later in the evening to make up time lost in the morning. Two hours more work in the evening makes a great difference to the farmer who has to make hay when the sun shines, even in this modern age. It also means supper will be later; and after a long day's work there is still milking to be done.

And what of our children? For those who attend school it means two months of rising earlier than usual. Since the bus picks up rural students who attend Salem High, our grade school children get on the bus at 7:15 a. m. and are away until 20 minutes till 5 p. m.

It is bad enough now but to change to Daylight time will only make matters worse. That extra daylight in the evening can be of little advantage to them, if the children have to retire before sundown to get up at daybreak. Meals are disrupted throughout the day.

Then the children's bedtime must be later than is necessary, the older children dislike going to bed when the heat of the day makes it impossible to sleep. Few mothers are tyrants, so poor mother's chance at a quiet evening is out! Under these circumstances how can she and Dad plan to go anywhere in the evening without taking the children along?

For childless couples on an 8-hour work day—40 hours a week, Daylight Saving time is no doubt a wonderful relief, but on the farm it certainly means a five month-long headache for Mother and Dad Farmer.

Margarine Tax Fight

Editor, The News:
According to Webster's dictionary and the Encyclopedia Britannica the word "Oleomargarine" is now "Margarine," the old name being used only in a legal sense. The history of margarine is quite interesting and reaches back 100 years or more. Many countries of Europe prohibit its manufacture, and there are 28 states in the U. S. which absolutely prohibit the sale of colored margarine, among these states being New York, Michigan and California and most of the other states, including Ohio, have laws restricting its manufacture or sale. The tax on margarine has been in effect in this country for over 60 years, and it seems strange that this tax is receiving so much attention as being a cause of the high cost of living at this time.

Americans use over a billion cigarettes a day and these are heavily taxed and no complaint is heard. Also heavy taxes on tobacco, alcoholic liquors, and cosmetics, all of which are in use perhaps more than margarine, so the objection to the tax on margarine is not well taken. All that is needed in the manufacture of margarine is a building with large vats for mixing the various fats, oils and other ingredients, and some molds to shape it to resemble butter and can be built anywhere. To make butter requires fertile fields and farms, clean surroundings, large herds of tested cattle.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 18 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

cooling systems, and some one to be on the job 365 days in the year.

Even if the tax on margarine were removed there is so much territory right here in our own country that ban its sale, that its sale for general use is not probable. Some people's tastes are peculiar, they can eat potatoes, rice, angel food or bread without artificial coloring, but their margarine must be colored for no other purpose than to imitate butter.

If these people wish to use margarine let them go ahead and use it and cease trying to injure the great dairy industry. If they really relish margarine it is just as nutritious and tasteful in its natural color as otherwise. This whole question amounts to the same idea as demanding that silk be sold as cheap as cotton cloth because both can be used for clothing and wool answer the same purpose. But silk comes from worms and cotton from plants and there is no comparison any more than between margarine and butter.

It would be a safe guess to say that the four creameries in Salem with their equipment and the thousands of dairy cattle on surrounding farms represent a greater cash investment than all the margarine factories in the United States together. Remember that the dairy industry is out in the open and offers nothing as a substitute. When the manufacturers of margarine can offer their product on the same basis and not as a substitute or imitation, the farmer can hold his own. Price Cope.

SO THEY SAY

Public school education in America has become a lottery.

—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio, urging a cut in Marshall Plan.

must be available promptly.

1. Last year our customers paid an average of 2.67c per kilowatt hour for residential electric service . . . that's 25% less than they paid 10 years ago and 12 1/2% cheaper than the average for the United States.

3. With cost of living higher—government reports show it has gone up 67% since 1935—homes served from the Edison System, on the average,

5. Ninety-seven per cent of all farms in the areas where we do business are electrified. More than 1200 farms were connected to our lines in 1947, making a total of 28,000 farms now enjoying the benefits of electric service.

6. Our tax bill of $8,431,546 included $1,494,462 for local governments, $1,242,557 to the state governments, and $5,714,527 to the Federal government. Taxes were at the rate of $23,000 a day or 19c out of every dollar of gross revenue.

DID YOU KNOW?

A POUND OF FEATHERS WEIGHS MORE THAN A POUND OF GOLD

NO CRACKERS BUT ZESTAS HAVE THAT "DISTINCTIVE FLAVOR"

When is a pound not a pound? . . . when feathers and gold are being weighed. A pound of feathers weighs more than a pound of gold because feathers are weighed by "avoirdupois" weight which has 16 ounces to a pound. Gold is always weighed by "troy" weight which contains only 12 ounces to a pound.
